Message from the Director

Lee Worsley, Executive Director

I am pleased to submit my recommended Central Pines Regional Council (CPRC) budget for July 1, 2024, through June 30, 2025, as required by the CPRC Charter. Last year marked a period of significant transformation and progress for our organization. Our success was a testament to our staff's unwavering commitment and exceptional skills, the steadfast support from our Board, and the invaluable partnership of our local government members.

Here are a few noteworthy achievements:

- We welcomed the Durham-Chapel Hill-Carrboro Metropolitan Planning Organization (DCHC MPO) into the Central Pines family on July 1, 2023. This integration has presented us with a remarkable opportunity to enhance collaborative efforts.
- We were excited to unveil our new logo, brand, and name. This could not have been possible without the support of the Board and the action of our member governments, which collectively approved the new brand and adopted our revised charter. All changes went into effect on July 1, 2023.
- We inaugurated our newly renovated space with a well-attended open house in January 2024. Haven't had a chance to pop in and see the space? We invite you to visit and remember, 'Our space is your space!'

Looking Ahead

With our region expected to continue to see unprecedented growth, our organization will embark on a new collaborative regional visioning effort in the new year to sustain the opportunities we all enjoy.

Our region's success is due in large part to our history of collaboration. The "Triangle" is the ultimate story of employing collaboration and connection to build a thriving region; leveraging connections between Raleigh, Durham, Chapel Hill, universities, and the private sector to create Research Triangle Park. Our airport being called "Raleigh-Durham" embraces the multi-jurisdictional aspect of what makes our region unique and strong.

Projected growth over the next 30 years in our region (plus Franklin, Granville, and Harnett) will equate to adding a town the size of Wake Forest (population 50,000) each year. Are we ready? How will the region continue to collaborate and coordinate as a major metro? Our collaboration helped form the region and is critical to its continued success. Do we have the mechanisms to keep our region strong and in first place on many desirable lists? How will we continue to create a sense of community and connection?

Connected Region 2050, which will launch next fiscal year, will unite the region to develop a collective vision and actionable strategies to ensure our region remains strong, vibrant, and connected. The effort will not duplicate existing local plans or strategies. Instead, Connected Region 2050 provides a framework to ensure that our collective efforts align; allowing us to all row in the same direction, even if we are seated in different boats. The effort is meant to amplify and align the ongoing good work in the region. Connected Region 2050 will be just one element of a larger ThriveCentralNC movement meant to convene and enhance collaborative opportunities across our area.

An effort like this will not be easy or cheap, but I would argue that it is a required investment to keep our region competitive against our national peers. Much more will come in the next few months, including our proposed work plan for the effort. I invite you to learn more HERE.

Again, thank you to our staff for their outstanding work and to our dedicated Board of Delegates for their support and vision for our organization. Looking forward to another great year!

Lee Worsley

The Budget

The recommended budget for CPRC for Fiscal Year 2024-2025 is $40,442,456. This year's budget reflects continued alignment between our budget and strategic focus areas and a need for robust investment in our operations to maintain services to our local governments. It also focuses on building the organization's unassigned fund balance, which has been negative for at least 15 years. A long-range plan to build fund balance to at least a break-even point is a high priority for the organization.

Member Investments

This year, member investment (dues) from local governments are recommended to increase from $0.41 to $0.44 per capita. Additionally, the threshold for dues to decrease to $0.20 per capita is recommended to increase from 250,000 to 300,000. Member investment is calculated by the total population of municipal members and the unincorporated population of county members.

Indirect Rate

CPRC receives funding for our administrative functions through an indirect rate calculated on each program's salaries and fringe benefit costs. The indirect rate allows each program to pay its fair share of administrative costs and reduces the burden placed on flexible funds, such as member investment, essential for our proactive work.

The indirect cost rate for 2024-2025 is 41.8992%. This is a substantial reduction from the 2023-2024 indirect rate of 53.7071%. Last year's budget included CPRC's first increase in its indirect rate percentage in 8 years, due primarily to the required furnishings and technology needed for our newly renovated space. At that time, it was anticipated that this would be a one-year spike in the indirect rate and that the recommended indirect rate for Fiscal Year 2024-2025 would reduce to a rate comparable to recent years. The recommended budget delivers on that assurance.

Recruitment & Retention

CPRC is committed to providing competitive salaries and benefits to its employees. This has been a challenge over the last several years as the market has tightened. Understandably, our local government members have focused on increasing salaries and benefits for its employees, which also has impacted our recruitment efforts. CPRC is scheduled to conduct a pay and class study every four years. Due to the staff capacity requirements last year to implement branding changes, facility renovations, and the addition of DCHC MPO, the study was delayed by one year and is now being concluded. The study's full results are close to complete, and provisions have been made to implement as much of the study as possible during Fiscal Year 2024-25. The following salary adjustments are included in the recommended budget.

- A 4% market adjustment for all employees, effective in the first pay period of Fiscal Year 2024-2025. The adjustment will increase minimum salaries by 4% for all positions in the Pay and Classification Plan.
- A 2% merit increase opportunity for employees who are not in a probationary period and have been in their position for at least one year. Supervisors determine the 2% merit award based on employees' meeting expectations of their work plan. Merit increases are effective on the first day of the first applicable pay period for the Fiscal Year 2024-25.
- Additionally, funding has been set aside to implement salary study recommendations. It is anticipated that final salary adjustments will be made between the publication of the recommended budget on April 26, 2024, and final consideration of the budget resolution by the Board on May 22, 2024.

The recommended budget includes:

- Four new full-time positions, including:
 - Planner II in the Community and Economic Development Focus Area
 - Principal Planner in the Environment and Resilience Focus Area
 - Senior Planner in the Environment and Resilience Focus Area
 - Accounting Coordinator in Finance, which will be fully funded by projects in the Environment and Resilience Focus Area
- One vacant Management Analyst in the Member Support and Strategy Focus area will be eliminated
- In total, the budget includes a proposed net increase of 3 new positions

Our Board

CPRC's Board of Delegates includes one elected official from each member county and municipality served by the organization. The full board sets policy, guides programming, and discusses regional challenges for CPRC. CPRC's Executive Committee includes all seven county delegates and one municipal representative from each county. The Executive Committee conducts business for the organization in months when the Board of Delegates does not meet.

Overview

A seamless network of information and supports is critical for the wellbeing of our region's rapidly growing older adult population. The Central Pines Council of Governments' Area Agency on Aging (CPAAA) administers funding and programs that connect older adults to resources, assists partners to make holistic and strategic decisions about aging services, and helps members design communities that are livable for community members of all ages and support aging in communities.

Aging & Human Services

The Year Ahead

CPAAA continues to utilize the American Rescue Plan funding and other special COVID-19 funding to assist the aging network and the older adults they serve with pandemic recovery. Enhancing long-term services and supports for vulnerable older adults, promoting awareness and prevention of elder abuse, and addressing social isolation are at the top of the AAA's priority list. Additionally, staff continue to administer the Older American's Act service funding, which includes providing reimbursement for services provided, reporting to the state and federal government, education and information, and technical assistance to its service network.

Aging & Human Services Focus Area projects included in the recommended budget:

Planning & Administration

Funding for the implementation of the Area Plan for Aging & Human Services and for the operational needs of the AAA in providing information brokerage, funds administration and quality assurance, and advocacy.

FTE Total: 4.50

Budget: $720,723

Family Caregiver Support Program

The CPAAA encourages the development of resources and services at the local level to support family caregivers of aging adults and persons with disabilities and provides administrative oversight and technical assistance on the use of the National Family Caregiver Support Program funds for education, resource information, support groups, counseling, outreach, and supplemental services.

FTE Total: 0.98

Budget: $776,334

Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program

The Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program advocates for residents in nursing homes, adult care homes, and family care homes by investigating concerns from residents and family members related to care and treatment and assists residents in exercising their rights.

FTE Total: 3.50

Budget: $552,524

Elder Abuse Awareness & Prevention

The CPAAA provides public education and outreach to raise awareness and to help identify and prevent abuse, neglect, and exploitation of adults and those with disabilities.

FTE Total: 0.10

Budget: $22,665

Aging & Human Services

Aging & Human Services Focus Area projects included in the recommended budget:

Home & Community Care Block Grant

Funding for direct services to eligible adults, aged 60 and older. Services are provided in accordance with the requirements of the federal Older Americans Act and the standards set forth by the NC Division of Aging & Adult Services. Examples include senior center services, in-home services, congregate and home-delivered meals, and transportation.

Highlights in the Coming Year

Community and Economic Development staff administer many local projects through state and federal grant awards. One recent addition is serving as the fiscal agent and administrator of National Park Service funds, for the rehabilitation of the Trinity AME Zion Church, which is a Nationally Registered Historic Resource. CPRC will continue to provide technical assistance as the Economic Development District and has recently been designated as the Local Development District, funded by the Southeast Crescent Regional Commission. Staff also have a new partnership with the Institute of Emerging Issues (based out of NC State), to facilitate the development of a regional digital inclusion plan, with a localized approach for participating counties. Lastly, CPRC increased our planning technical assistance capacity and will support the Town of Goldston with current planning services. Staff continue to work with communities to provide similar services, in addition to long range planning and implementation, code development and support, among other services.

Highlights in the Year Ahead

In Fiscal Year 2025 the CPRC Mobility & Transportation team will continue work on a number of ongoing projects. Fiscal Year 2025 will be a busy year for our Urban Transportation Support and Regional Planning Coordination project as we work to develop the next CAMPO/DCHC MPO Metropolitan Transportation Plan, Destination 2055. In the rural parts of our region, the Central Pines RPO will be working on Comprehensive Transportation Plan updates in both Chatham and Lee Counties in Fiscal Year 2025. We will continue working with Morrisville and Sanford/Broadway/Lee County on development of Safety Action Plans through the Safe Streets for All grant program, and will continue our work with schools in the region to promote safe walking and biking to schools through the Safe Routes to School grant program. And in Fiscal Year 2025 the Triangle Transportation Choices travel demand management program will be updating its strategic plan to guide the future direction of the program.

Urban Transportation Support & Regional Planning Coordination

CPRC serves an important role in coordinating regional transportation planning activities with our region's two Metropolitan Planning Organizations (CAMPO and DCHC MPO) and our regional transit provider GoTriangle. This includes support for the development of the MPOs' joint Metropolitan Transportation Plan, the regional CommunityViz land use forecasting model, and other coordination, data, and transportation analysis activities.

FTE Total: 1.85

Budget: $404,405

Durham-Chapel Hill-Carrboro MPO

The Durham-Chapel Hill-Carrboro (DCHC) MPO provides transportation planning services within the urban portions of Chatham, Durham, and Orange Counties. This includes the development of Metropolitan Transportation Plans, Transportation Improvement Programs, corridor studies, congestion management studies, and other plans. DCHC plans and programs federal funding for local transportation projects.

Highlights in the Year Ahead

The DCHC MPO budget does not include funds from regional council membership dues. Rather, a mixture of federal, state, local government, and County Transit Tax funds support metropolitan transportation planning activities in the west triangle. The MPO Board endorsed the 24-25 work plan in March and submitted it to FTA and FHWA for approval. The annual work plan incorporates core metropolitan transportation planning products like the long-range plan (2055), the fiscally constrained Transportation Improvement Program, and regional travel demand model necessary for planning and air quality conformance. Additional special studies include a 15-501 corridor planning initiative, public transportation corridor speed and reliability review, an MPO strategic plan, and locally sponsored project delivery improvement study.

Administration

CPRC's Administrative Team manages the executive and administrative operations of the organization. This includes overall leadership of the organization, human resources, finance, and office management. The executive staff works with the Board of Delegates, local government members, and staff to ensure that the organization's mission is being carried out. The finance team fairly and transparently reports and represents financial reports and statements to all stakeholders while upholding a financial code of ethics, serves as a collaborative internal resource for focus areas to achieve regional goals, and serves as a leader in immersing government financial issues through providing resources for member governments. The human resource team works with focus areas to recruit and retain diverse and talented staff and ensures that CPRC is an employer of choice in the region through enhanced engagement and development of our core values and organizational principles.
