Lindsay Whitson, Community and Economic Development Director and Hunter Fillers, Housing Program Manager. Panelists: Ryan Smith: City of Durham; Director, Community Safety Department, Meredith Yuckman: Hope Center at Pullen; Executive Director

Background:

Approximately 1 in every 1,250 individuals in North Carolina are homeless, ranking the state 18th worst in the nation and the 5th worst among southern states in total numbers. Rising housing costs, coupled with insufficient numbers of affordable housing options and adequate community resources, continues to transition more people into unsheltered status – particularly for our region’s most vulnerable populations such as youth, seniors, and low -income families. Preventative and preservation practices are needed to help mitigate this growing and complex challenge. The Board will hear from presenters on local and statewide programs, data, and efforts at CPRC to apply for funding and develop systemwide approaches. The Board will also participate in breakout groups to discuss their own challenges and gaps they still need to fill.

Presenter(s):

Jenisha Henneghan, Area Agency on Aging Director

Background:

The Area Plan on Aging focuses on the strategic work of Central Pines Area Agency on Aging and its partners that is mandated by requirements of the Older Americans Act (OAA). The 2024-2028 Area Plan will guide the work of the AAA over the next four years. This plan outlines our commitment to address the diverse needs of aging adults, adults with disabilities, and family caregivers across our region. Guided by advocacy, partnership efforts, and the principles of the State Aging Plan on Advancing Equity in Aging, our plan focuses on six key areas:

1. Safety, Protection, and Advocacy
2. Healthy Aging/Quality of Life
3. Housing and Homelessness
4. Caregiving Support and Workforce Development
5. Long-term Preparedness Planning
6. Advancing Equity and Reframing Aging.

The goals are guided by the North Carolina State Aging Plan and are intended to encompass the needs and desires of this region's aging adults and adults with disabilities. The Central Pines Aging Advisory Committee is scheduled to consider endorsing the plan at its May 21, 2024 meeting.

Executive Director's Recommended Fiscal Year 2024-25 Budget and Consideration of Budget Resolution Adoption

Presenter(s):

Lee Worsley, Executive Director

Background:

On April 26, 2024, the Executive Director sent his recommended budget to members and alternates of the Board of Delegates and the managers of CPRC's member governments.

At its May 1, 2024, meeting, the executive committee received a detailed budget overview. The required Public Hearing was also held at that time. No comments were received during the public hearing.

The CPRC Officers met on May 13, 2024, to discuss the budget further and any input received during the Executive Committee meeting. No changes to the Executive Director's recommended budget have been requested.

Item Title:

Draft Central Pines Regional Council Bylaw Changes

Presenter(s):

Lee Worsley, Executive Director

Background:

The Town of Chapel Hill's Board meetings directly conflict with the Board of Delegate and Executive Committee meetings of CPRC. This has been occurring for about five years and as a result, Chapel Hill has not been able to have a Delegate present for meetings.

Chapel Hill Mayor Jess Anderson has requested that former Chapel Hill Board member Michael Parker sit as Chapel Hill's representative. There is an understanding that Mr. Parker would not have voting rights, but the mayor desires that Chapel Hill be at the table.

Executive Director Lee Worsley has discussed the matter with the Board Officers, who are supportive of this very narrow exception, and asked that a revision to the Bylaws be drafted to address this specific, narrow issue.

The items were presented to the Executive Committee on February 28, 2024, and generated significant discussion. The Executive Committee voted to recommend that the Board of Delegates approve the draft recommendations by a vote of eight (8) for and four (4) against.

Since the bylaws were reviewed by the Executive Committee, a recommended budget has been released with a recommended change in member dues. The draft bylaws also reflect the recommended dues rates.

A revision is attached and has been reviewed by the CPRC Attorney. The revision would only allow for a non-delegate representative to be appointed if meetings of the local government's governing body directly conflict with CPRC's Board and Executive Committee meetings.

f. Local Government Highlight: Two Long-Standing Regional Water Resource Projects – the Triangle Area Water Supply Monitoring Partnership and the Triangle Water Supply Partnership

Presenters: Emily Barrett, Environment & Resilience Director; Sydney Mill, Senior Water Resources Manager, City of Durham Water Management; Whit Wheeler, Raleigh Water Director; Jamie Revels, Cary, NC Utilities Director

Emily Barrett introduced the local government highlight focusing on water resource projects. Syd Miller, Senior Water Resources Manager for City of Durham Water Management shared about the Triangle Area Water Supply Monitoring Partnership.

Central Pines Regional Council has a long history of supporting regional efforts to build value by working regionally on environmental issues, especially water resources management. Member governments will describe two water resources efforts, the Triangle Area Water Supply Monitoring Partnership, and the Triangle Water Supply Partnership.

Whit Wheeler, Raleigh Water Director shared information about the Triangle Water Supply Partnership. This partnership was formed in 2018 with 13 partners, now 15.

Jamie Revels, Cary Utilities Director spoke on the Lead and Copper Workgroup. This workgroup allows discussion on technical issues like how to use predictive modeling to be more efficient in looking at our systems as a whole.

Delegate Randee O'Donnell asked if the workgroups are working on the PFAS issue and if there is a regional approach to filtration. Ms. Barrett responded that there currently isn't a regional approach to filtration yet, but the experts are paying attention to PFAS. Mr. Wheeler shared that they have been very aware of what's being detected and are discussing how to meet pending regulations. Mr. Revels added that they've conducted site visits and this information is available to Central Pines members. A pilot test is being done at the Cary-Apex water treatment facility to test the different technologies.

Delegate Steve Rao expressed his concern about the water supply with the growth that's happening as a result of the money being put into manufacturing in the area. Mr. Revels shared that water supply and water capacity, but they have started a brand-new long-range water resources plan. That way they can plan to make sure their water supplies will always be robust. All the partners were represented at the kickoff for this plan to make sure they were well-prepared.

Delegate Deans Eatman inquired about the Little River reservoir. Mr. Wheeler responded that they are looking at which one of the options are best for the region. Mr. Revels shared that working regionally is one of the strengths of this plan. Mr. Miller added that these plans are not one-off plans. This is repeated every 5-10 years, and they are looking out 30-50 years at a time. Ms. Barrett mentioned that they are doing a one-year study on PFAS.

Alternate Delegate Mark Akinosho asked how good our water source is. Mr. Wheeler said we are projected to have wetter years rather than dryer years in the future. Mr. Revels reiterated that the water supply is very robust, although there is some fluctuation. They try to make it so citizens notice no difference.

Mr. Miller noted that they don't only look at all water as a whole, not just raw water. Mr. Wheeler said that conservation efforts have helped in usage amounts.

Delegate Freeman asked if the unincorporated areas were taken into account. Mr. Miller said they take into account cities versus well-water. They are not planning around those wells. Mr. Revels said they are planning for changing densities. Any utility will extend services to a failed well if that home is close enough to the city.

Vice Chair Gantt asked about the lead graphic. Mr. Revels said they have to identify public and private lines that have lead. Lori Bush shared that letters were mailed to homeowners to help them identify if there is a potential for lead in older homes. They have been hyper focused on lead lined galvanized lines.

Delegate Ronnie Currin asked who is looking at overall long-term planning in Wake and Durham County to make sure we are not still putting wells in. Radon is very bad in well water and makes people sick. Ms. Barrett mentioned looking at the state level for regionalizing this.

Mr. Worsley shared that the full board would be meeting less frequently, but there will be focus area subcommittees to help guide the work in those areas. There won't be a transportation committee because there are already many transportation committees in the region. These groups would possibly come together once a year and meet quarterly at most.
